CERT BACKPACK/MANUAL INVENTORY REGISTER

CERT Agency: If backpacks and/or manuals are distributed to trained volunteers, then the backpacks and/or manuals must be "tagged"--each must receive a number. CERT Agencies must keep a list of the persons who received the backpack/manual, and this list must include: the number of the backpack/manual; the name and contact information of the volunteer; the date the equipment was issued; and the date, if applicable, that the equipment was returned and the name of the CERT agency who received the returned item(s).

CERT Members: By receiving this backpack and/or manual, you agree to hold it in a safe place and use the equipment for the purposes for which it is intended and as you were trained to do in your CERT program. Further, by signing below, you acknowledge that: (1) any equipment you receive during your CERT training program is a regional asset that is still owned by the CERT agency that distributed it to you; (2) that your possession of the equipment may be audited; and (3) that any equipment that you receive as a volunteer member of CERT must be relinquished and returned to the CERT agency that distributed it to you if your participation in the CERT program is diminished. You must attend a CERT refresher course at least one (1) time per year in order to maintain your status as a volunteer member of your CERT program.
